

Your trusted advisor, connecting the dots between people, process and technology.

our story

Aeritae Consulting Group was founded in 2001 and strives to be a leader in delivering innovation, balance and performance to IT organizations. Our passion is to help our clients achieve their business success. We enable IT organizations to define, deliver and improve service to the business.

We achieve balance by being vendor agnostic, bringing unbiased recommendations to the table. We help our clients strike a balance, supplementing their internal talent with our third party knowledge. We strive to be that trusted advisor to your organization, providing thought leadership, partnership and collaboration to ensure success.

Aeritae is considered one of the fastest growing private companies in the Twin Cities, the 8th largest Twin Cities based privately held Minority Business Enterprise, and won Upsize Magazine's award for "Best practices in People and Workplace." Our Aeritae Community Engagement program (ACE) offers volunteer opportunities for staff to contribute or give back to non-profit organizations.

Aeritae's mission is simple. To be the region's premier, most recognized IT consultancy, delivering thought leadership in the areas of Service Management, IT Risk Management, Infrastructure, Leadership and Organization, and Architecture. We create value for our clients by understanding their business needs, transferring our extensive wisdom and knowledge, and delivering innovation; tying it all into your organization's big picture, producing results in the shortest time possible! Our delivery is focused on the principal of going ABOVE and BEYOND your IT business needs, delivering exceptional results and work product to you.

Consulting Group, Ltd
Leaders in bringing Innovation, Balance and Performance
to IT organizations.

The word 'aeritae' comes from the Greek concept of balance, achieved through body, mind and spirit. The Greeks, for example, insisted that wrestlers study philosophy to balance the physical, and that philosophers should lift weights for the same reason.

our mission

our focus and expertise

Many services provided by consulting firms only solve the problem presented and stop there. With Aeritae, we fit solutions to your business. We take into account all five of our focus areas and apply the appropriate solution to ensure success.

These 5 areas enable us to provide and develop solutions with you. Our aim is to become your trusted advisor, mentoring your own IT talent to further develop themselves as champions in your IT organization.

We have successfully engaged the majority of the Fortune 100 companies in the Twin Cities. Our philosophy states that we're "only as good as our last engagement" and our consultants have 15-25 years of experience in the industry. Because of our commitment to high quality, our customers repeatedly engage us again and again. For a full listing of our clients, visit our website, under 'About Aeritae'.
